How Does It Work?

The PulStar uses a hand held Impluse Head containing sensors that is connected to a sophisticated computer program. Each spinal joint is analyzed for proper function and then displayed as a graph providing both Doctor and Patient with precise information regarding joint functions. This data, along with other clinical information obtained from the patient history and examination, is used to determine the most effective course of treatment to obtain the best results in the shortest period of time. In treatment mode, the PulStar delivers a series of precise, computer controlled, gentle impulses to free-up joint fixations, relieve muscle spasms, and restore normal joint function. A post-analysis is performed and compared with the pre-treatment analysis to visualize and verify the improved results of treatment.

"I was amazed that with one treatment I could move my neck and slept better the first night. It took around 3 treatments before I really saw the full results. The staff was great and kept encouraging me. Dr. Wilcox never gave up on me and every visit was always to get me back in alignment!"-Verla M. 85yrs old.

"After only a few treatments, I could feel the positive effects the computerized treatment was having on my body. I finally understood the simple reasons I was having so much pain; and even better, Dr. Wilcox knew the solutions to resolve my problems! My quality of life made a dramatic change for the better and it was so wonderful for the first time in years to get out of bed and be able to move freely. My response to Dr. Wilcox's care literally changed my thinking about chiropractic care and truly built my confidence regarding his profession and especially in him. I would recommend to anyone suffering today to take advantage of computerized care."- Dave

"For anyone who does not like to be "crunched" and "snapped", the methods used by Dr. Wilcox are extremely effective. I believe the PulStar can adjust things that a manual adjustment could never accomplish. He is very detailed in what he is doing / adjusting and explains in quite detail what each adjustment is intended to accomplish. "Before coming to Living Well Chiropractic I felt like my life was over. I couldn't do simple things like my laundry, making my bed, or buying/bagging my own groceries. I had given up walking for exercise because it was too painful. Now I'm able to walk for an hour non-stop. Plus do some mild resistance exercises. Before I could only sit for no more than 30 minutes when traveling. I would have to get out of the car and walk around for 5 minutes before continuing. Since going to Living Well Chiropractic I can now drive to Kansas City non-stop. LIFE IS GOOD!!!!" – M.M, Salina

"Before I started coming here I suffered from chronic pain. Since coming to Dr. Wilcox, I have completely stopped taking prescription pain meds and no longer get headaches. I feel very blessed to have found this type of treatment and very thankful for Dr. Wilcox! He helped me with issues no one else had ever found!" – Shaleah Tonne, Salina
